Dear Anthony,

Already a week, after all your life and 70 years of mine, it takes some getting used to. Almost one forgets for a moment, then, I'm almost grateful for someone with such an intellect & until of late, so physically active to be mentally & physically confined by strokes, for all his courage, must have been hard to bear. Instead of mourning I'm trying to concentrate on how lucky I am to have had Nick so much a part of my life for so long. I'm more grateful than I can say that you keep me informed. It was a great kindness.

As you brothers will miss him so too will his "2nd" family and so many others - the youngsters on Barra not least. We are all so fortunate to have had parts of him. Odd changes - no longer do I need to put a stool by the telephone for our long chats, no more pictures of meals, & no more seeing in the New Year. Oh well, lovely memories.
This is probably rubbish, sorry!
Love Elizabeth
